

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn.—"Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help other women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles are past."—Mrs. E. H. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain.

If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. We believe it will help you greatly, for it has helped others.

LATE STATE EVENTS CONDENSED FOR THE BUSY READER

Tom J. White & Sons, former publishers of the Boone County Pioneer, at Boone, Ia., have purchased the Trenton Evening Times and have taken charge of the plant. White and his two sons will be connected with the paper, the senior member of the firm in the editorial department and the sons in the mechanical department.

The Missouri State Agricultural Council was organized here by representatives from 10 of the large organizations. Its principal object is to weld together all the organizations affecting the agricultural classes in the state and present a solid body for all measures calculated to promote harmony and good results in the multiplicity of organizations where the interests at stake are mutual. If the organization accomplishes what it has started out to do, the most powerful agricultural organization known in the history of the state has been affected.

Ellas Roberts, the 19-year-old negro who held up the officers of the First National Bank at Jefferson City, at the point of a pistol, and stole $40, died at St. Mary's Hospital, that city, from wounds inflicted by City Detective John Buehrle. One shot passed through his thigh and into his body. He had only been out of the State Reform School at Booneville a few days. The robbery took place after the bank had closed. Emil Schott, cashier of the bank and one of the officers held up, followed the negro and shot at him several times and probably inflicted one of the wounds. The negro took refuge in a lumber yard a block from the bank and was captured there 10 minutes after the robbery.

"The Flying Squadron," the organization in favor of law enforcement, civic righteousness and social and industrial justice, will be in Fulton on March 29, 30 and 31 for a series of meetings at the First Christian Church, in which members of all churches of Fulton will participate. Men prominent in business and church life of the United States are booked to deliver addresses and it is expected to be one of the most important meetings held in Fulton in several years.

Charges of first-degree murder were filed against Bob Stemmons, lawyer, and Lavanous Jackson, alleged bootlegger, and Raymond Jackson, brother of Lavanous Jackson, by Prosecuting Attorney James A. Potter of Lawrence County, in the court of Justice George Ryan, at Mount Vernon, as a result of the fatal injury of J. B. Tillman, a Carthage and Lawrence County lawyer, in open court before Circuit Judge C. L. Henson. Tillman died in a hospital at Mount Vernon.

President John R. Kirk of the Northeast State Teachers' College, Kirksville, has announced the appropriation for the erection of new buildings at that college has been released by Governor Hyde, and a meeting of the Board of Regents will be held in Kirksville April 11 to pass on the bids. One of the buildings is a large auditorium and gymnasium, on which $200,000 will be spent, and the other is a demonstration that will cost $87,000.

The State Public Service Commission at Jefferson City has authorized the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company to issue $11,453,000 of 5 per cent prior lien bonds. These bonds, with the exception of $521,000 of notes for equipments, are issued in lieu of the former issues of 6 per cent prior lien bonds, which were not sold and remain in the treasury of the company.

United States Senator James A. Reed, shortly after his arrival at St. Louis from Hot Springs, Ark., in a formal statement announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination at the primaries next August. He is completing his second 6-year term in the Senate.

Jake Investor, 61 years old, a farmer living near Dexter, was fined $50 at Bloomfield for shooting John Fletcher, a neighbor, last November. Testimony was that Fletcher put up one of Investor's straying hogs and that in the course of the argument the shot was fired.

Bryan Blythe, of Centralia, committed suicide at the Planters Hotel, Mexico, by drinking carbolic acid. A note was left on his dresser addressed to a young woman of Centralia.

Verdie Barton, of Shannon County, was fined $400 for manufacturing whiskey at Eminence. His father, M. E. Barton, was fined $100 on a similar charge.

Dr. Austin Lee McRae, emeritus professor of physics and former director of the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla, died at Rolla. He was 61 years old.

Stephens Junior College for Women at Columbia let a contract for a new science hall, to be constructed this spring at a cost of $79,831. The University of Missouri advertised for bids on a new agricultural building, chemistry building and women's gymnasium, for which Governor Hyde recently released funds.

Charles M. Jacobus, 72 years old, for 50 years a resident of Missouri, 12 years as assistant ticket agent for the Missouri Pacific and 17 years an agent for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, fell dead in his yard at Sedalia.

Between swinging a policeman's milly and chasing live stock across Missouri's hills, J. L. Crawford, of Trenton, has decided he likes the former the best and he will soon be on his way back to Seattle, Wash., to take a place on the metropolitan police force of that city. Crawford was on the police force at Seattle for six years, but gave up the job to come to Trenton to go farming. Now he has decided he likes the clamor and excitement that goes with a guardian of the peace job and he has accepted the offer of the Seattle chief to come back and don the accoutrements of one of the Northwest's finest. Joe Crawford, a brother of the Missouri farmer and former policeman, also is on the Seattle force, and the decision of the Missouri brother will throw them together again.

Governor Hyde at Jefferson City has proclaimed the week April 30 to May 7 to be set aside in Missouri to the devotion of special attention and thought to religious training of children, and asked that the week be observed as "children's week." The governor reminded that "in the home and in the teachings of the church and Sunday schools are to be found the principal, if not the only sources, of religious training, and, therefore, of morality," and expressed a hope that "1922 may be memorable in the training of children of Missouri in religion and morality, those great fundamental virtues of Americanism," calling upon parents to give serious thought to these things.

The State Highway Commission, in a statement issued at Jefferson City, calls attention to the provisions in the new highway law, which establishes the state system. These seem to be a general belief that the State Highway Commission can establish additional highways or re-locate highways already established. Several counties have sent representatives to Jefferson City lately in this belief and they have been disappointed when they learned the fact. The State Highway Commission cannot add a mile to the state highway system and can re-locate only by reason of some engineering recommendation.

Mrs. Olla Marr, wife of Will Marr, a farmer, was at liberty under $300 bond, following her arrest on a charge of arson. The charge was preferred by a sister-in-law who declared Mrs. Marr had set fire to her own home. Will Marr, the husband, complained that newspaper articles incorrectly stated he had been arrested in connection with the charge, and he emphasized that he knew nothing about the fire. Records at the courthouse substantiate Marr's assertion that no charge had been placed against him.

Governor Hyde has granted a parole to Vender Fish, convicted in Bollinger County, in September, 1918, of murder in the second degree and sentenced to the penitentiary for 35 years. The prison physician and the Prison Board certified to the Governor that Fish is a victim of tuberculosis and has lately grown much worse. The parole was granted on this account. Fish is paroled to Dr. Ashler Speer, of Blanton, Mo.

Architects have been put to work preparing plans and specifications for a modern sanatorium on the Osage River, near Osceola, which is to cost $50,000, and which is being furthered by a company of Kansas City men. It is believed the plans will be in readiness for bidders in 60 days. A portion of the capital to put the project through already has been secured.

Passage of an ordinance against public dancing in Gilliam has resulted in the resignation of Dr. J. H. Davidson as Mayor and created a stir among the young folk there. The ordinance provides that the use of any public dance hall or building in Gilliam shall constitute a misdemeanor on the part of the owner, punishable by a jail sentence.

THANKFUL FOR GOOD PE-RU-NA DID HER YEARS AGO

Keeps the Medicine with Her for Safety

Mrs. Carl Linder, R. E. D. No. 2, Box 44, Dassel, Minnesota, writes: "I want to thank you for your kindness and the good your remedy did me years ago. I am perfectly well and visiting in Spokane, Wash. Were it not for Pe-ru-na I would not have been able to make this trip. I always take your medicine with me for safety should I take cold. Praise to Pe-ru-na."

As an emergency remedy for everyday ills, Pe-ru-na has been in use fifty years.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Deaf to Entreaty.

"Are our girls ashamed of their ears?" asks Rev. A. M. Mitchell, vicar of Burtonwood, Lancashire, England, in the Excelsior, the Burtonwood parish magazine. "Why do they hide them? The fashion of 'bobbed hair' (why not mobbed?) stands in need of some explanation."

"The ear, even the feminine ear, is not always pretty. But if not always as ornamental as could be wished, it should always be useful. Will 'bobbed hair' interfere with the ear's intended service and usefulness?"

"If it does, this hair fashion is a sin against the body, a crime against society."

Imaginative.

The youngster who asked his father why God hadn't given the zebra stars as well as stripes has a match in the little girl who wrote this description of the Ark:

"Overhead was a gorgeous rainbow and beneath it the little Ark rode proudly over the waters, with smoke pouring from her smokestack and the United States flag flying at the bow."—Boston Transcript.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

What Are Symbreals?

The novel of the future, according to Shaw Desmond, will be like his novels, not a novel at all but a sym-breal. Mr. Desmond goes on in highly technical and polysyllabic terms to define what a sym-breal is, comparing it to a kaleidoscope, and to a many-faceted diamond, but disregarding the spelling, one is very likely to think the name originated with the tinkling symbol and that the great difference lies in the introduction of one syllable for euphony's sake.

Improved Weather Map.

Three-dimensional maps are being made by the United States weather bureau as a result of the development of flying, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It was found necessary to chart wind directions at different levels for the airmen. A weather map carrying wind direction arrows for different levels is photographed from two angles, and when the two pictures are seen through a stereoscope, they blend, bringing the posts and arrows into strong relief.

Honest.

"Yes, I can give you a job. You may gather eggs for me if you are sure you won't steal any." "You could rust me with anything, lady. I was manager of a bathroom for fifteen years and never took a bath."—Judge.

Don't depart too quietly after your host's surreptitious yawn, or she will think you noticed it.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

Postum for Health—"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in time) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

A Mistake. There was a commotion in the theater and the usher was seen ejecting a man. The man was sputtering angrily when the manager came into the lobby.

"Why did you eject this man?" asked the manager.

"He was hissing the performance," replied the usher.

"Why did you hiss the performance?" asked the manager.

"I d-d-didn't h-h-hiss," stammered the man. "I m-m-merely s-s-said t-to m-my friend beside me: 'S-S-Sammy, is-s-s-n't it a-a-s-s-superb?'"—Pittsburgh Press.

Proof. "I am a philosopher," admitted the gentleman whose frontpiece was as elongated and solemn as that of a rare old fiddle.
